Senator Herb Kohl
Chairman
Senate Special Committee on Aging
Washington, D.C. 20510

Senator Charles Grassley
Ranking Member
Senate Finance Committee
Washington, D.C. 20510-400

Dear Senators Kohl and Grassley:

On behalf of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons (AAOS), I am writing in response to your correspondence of May 11, 2009, regarding pharmaceutical and medical device manufacturers' support of AAOS, as well as AAOS policies and practices in place to manage any potential financial conflicts of interests which may exist among members of AAOS leadership.

AAOS represents more than 22,500 U.S. Board-certified orthopaedic surgeons. The Academy was founded in 1933 and has become the preeminent provider of musculoskeletal education in the world through its annual scientific meeting, continuing medical education (CME) courses, publications, and electronic media materials. In addition to education, AAOS provides practice management services to orthopaedic surgeons and allied healthcare professionals. (www.aaos.org)

AAOS is also committed to increasing the public's awareness of musculoskeletal conditions, with an emphasis on preventive measures. Recent data show that more than 1 in 4 Americans has a musculoskeletal condition that requires medical attention. The AAOS patient/public education internet site, Your Orthopaedic Connection (www.orthoinfo.org), free brochures and booklets, and public service announcements address such issues as the prevention of injuries, bone health, hip fractures, back pain, and the importance of musculoskeletal research.

As an organization of orthopaedic surgeons who treat patients with musculoskeletal conditions, AAOS has a long history of organizational integrity, as well as being a provider of high-quality and unbiased programming. AAOS takes very seriously its charge to present current, comprehensive, specialized educational materials to enhance the knowledge of orthopaedic surgeons and others and to facilitate the provision of improved patient care. AAOS has long had and continues to update and strengthen its policies governing appropriate commercial support, as well as managing conflicts of interest among its Senior Management Team, AAOS leaders, faculty, authors, and researchers.

What follows is a summary of AAOS information provided in this response and the corresponding question to which it relates. AAOS is providing the requested information to the best of its abilities but asks that it not be shared as it contains proprietary information.

Additionally, you may find the document, "AAOS Policies Related to Conflicts of Interest and Commercial Support," Attachment 3, helpful as you review the financial information. It is a summary of AAOS's rules and policies that relate to identifying, disclosing, and managing conflicts of interests, as well as the policies that direct the manner in which AAOS accepts commercial support.

- 1. Please provide an accounting of industry funding that pharmaceutical, medical device companies, and/or foundations established by these companies have provided to the AAOS. Because reporting practices vary widely from one professional organization to another, we would appreciate you also placing this income into a chart, detailing annual amounts of industry funding from pharmaceutical and/or device companies. For each year, please provide the following information for AAOS:
  - a. Name of company;
  - b. Date of payment;
  - c. Payment description (CME, honorarium, research support, etc.);
  - d. Amount of payment; and
  - e. Annual total from the company.

The information contained in the Commercial Support spreadsheet (Attachment 1) includes commercial support received by AAOS during the period January 1, 2004 and June 30, 2009, from medical device and pharmaceutical manufacturers, including companies that manufacture:

- Joint implants, etc.;
- Bone parts, fillers, etc.;
- Plates and screws;
- Anything that appeared to be for internal use;
- Braces and other orthotics; and
- Prosthetics.

Many of the identified commercial supporters have multiple divisions and/or locations, such as a dedicated spine or trauma unit. These commercial supporters are identified only by their generic names, in order to avoid any erroneous statements of receipt of support by an incorrectly identified division.

Finally, no money was received from foundations established by medical device or pharmaceutical companies.

2. Please describe the policies for accepting industry funding and whether or not the AAOS allows companies to place restrictions or provide guidance on how funding will be spent.

An Executive Summary of AAOS Policies, found as Attachment 3, describes the various policies for receipt of commercial support. AAOS does not accept support from commercial entities which place restrictions on the support. AAOS Guidelines for Commercial Support (Attachment 4) provides:

The Academy retains complete responsibility, control, and decision-making authority for all of its programs. In education, the identification of post-graduate orthopaedic educational needs, educational objectives, scientific content, faculty selection, planning, and format of its educational programs and services are determined by its relevant councils and committees as charged by the Academy's Board of Directors. Similarly, in research, public education and academic affairs, the Academy's committees and councils determine program objectives independently of financial support. Although the Academy will accept grants in support of a particular project, product or event, the Academy

Senator Charles Grassley
United States Senate

will not accept grants on the condition of inclusion or exclusion of specific medical/scientific or product content.

Likewise, commercial exhibitors at the AAOS Annual Meeting are assigned space on the exhibit floor according to a priority points system. Points are awarded for the number of years each exhibitor has participated in the Annual Meeting as an exhibitor, not based on the amount of space purchased, or overall funding provided to AAOS, or advertising purchased. AAOS does not accept any commercial support for courses held at the Annual Meeting.

Finally, advertisers in AAOS publications, such as AAOS Now and the Journal of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, have no control over the content of these publications. The advertising and editorial departments of these publications are completely separate, with neither being aware of the content of the pages of the other until the pages near the deadline for publication.

- 3. If the AAOS allows companies to place restrictions on industry funding, then please explain all restrictions and/or guidance for each transfer of value from a pharmaceutical company since January 1, 2004. For every transfer of value with a restriction, please provide the following information: year of transfer, name of company, and restriction placed on funding.

AAOS does not accept funding from commercial supporters that place restrictions on funding. See response to Question 2.

- 4. Please provide the CVs and financial disclosures filed with the AAOS by all senior officials and members of the AAOS.

AAOS Policies Related to Conflicts of Interest and Commercial Support

Executive Summary

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ORTHOPAEDIC SURGEONS

The mission of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons (AAOS) is “to serve our members and the profession, champion the interests of patients, and advance the highest quality musculoskeletal health.” In furtherance of this mission, AAOS seeks and receives appropriate financial support for selected programs and projects. These include scientific meetings and continuing medical education (CME) courses, and other self-directed educational material, musculoskeletal research, public education and public service programs.

At all times, AAOS adheres to its Conflicts of Interest policies to ensure that any conflicts of interests, or potential conflicts of interests, are identified, disclosed, and managed to maintain AAOS’s independence as an organization and education provider. As the premiere provider of orthopaedic education, AAOS takes very seriously its responsibility to provide high-quality programming that is unbiased in nature.

Governance

- Conflicts of Interest Policies for AAOS Leaders

Since the mid-1980’s, AAOS Board of Directors has maintained and enforced a policy on disclosure of conflicts of interest or any potential conflicts of interests. Since that time, AAOS has adopted the Conflict of Interest and Confidentiality Policy for AAOS Leaders, as well as AAOS Board of Directors Mandatory Enhanced Disclosure Policy. These policies require AAOS Leaders to disclose any conflicts of interests, or any potential conflicts of interests, and set forth the procedures for both defining and resolving conflicts. Under the Mandatory Enhanced Disclosure Policy, members of AAOS Board of Directors are required to be and remain transparent and as free of any outside influences as possible, as well as disclose any relevant potentially conflicting interests or commercial relationships. Both policies are attached as Attachments 8 and 9, respectively.

AAOS also has a Mandatory Disclosure Policy for Governance Groups and Continuing Education Contributors. Essentially, it sets forth the disclosure required of Fellows or Members who participate in AAOS educational courses and governance groups. It is attached as Attachment 10. Finally, AAOS Code of Ethics for Governance and Management applies to all members of the Board of Directors, Council or Cabinet chairs, Advisory Board Chairs, Committee Chairs, the Executive Management Team, and the Senior Management Team. It supplements AAOS Code of Medical Ethics and Professionalism for Orthopaedic Surgeons (<http://www.aaos.org/about/papers/ethics/code.asp>), and sets the expectation that all AAOS leaders will act honestly and ethically. The Code of Ethics for Governance and Management is attached as Attachment 12.

Finally, AAOS has a Policy on Business Relationships with Commercial Organizations in which a Member has a Significant Financial Interest. This policy sets forth the manner in which conflicts of interests between an AAOS Fellow and a commercial organization in which the Fellow has a significant financial interest will be managed. It is attached as Attachment 13.

Each of the foregoing policies is reviewed periodically and revised as necessary. The policies and the principles that underlie them are presented and discussed annually at the orientation for new members of the Board of Directors, new Committee and Council Chairs and others assuming leadership positions within AAOS.

Continuing Medical Education

- Compliance with ACCME Regulations

In all of its Continuing Medical Education (CME) programs, AAOS complies with the Standards for Commercial Support promulgated by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) (www.accme.org), the national accrediting organization that identifies, develops and promotes standards for high-quality continuing medical education. In accordance with those standards, AAOS discloses all forms of financial and logistical support from commercial entities, as a matter of record and to recognize the companies that support AAOS. In accordance with ACCME Standards, AAOS makes all decisions on the disposition and disbursement of commercial support; and may not accept guidance of any kind from commercial supporters on the selection of course content, authors, or instructors.

Moreover, AAOS CME programs are governed by AAOS's own Policy on Presentation of Fair and Balanced Programs, which requires program planners, course directors and all faculty to present fair and balanced programs that focus on principles rather than products and provide a wide range of views. It encourages the use of generic terminology and provides that registrants should have an opportunity to see and use a variety of equipment available for orthopaedic procedures. It is attached as Attachment 15.

- Commercial Support for AAOS CME Courses

In accordance with ACCME Standards, the limitations of commercial support for AAOS's CME programs and products are formalized in a standard CME Letter of Agreement between AAOS and the commercial supporter. A sample standard AAOS Letter of Agreement is attached as Attachment 7. AAOS also discloses all commercial supporters in print at the beginning of every program, both to identify the financial interests involved and to acknowledge all commercial supporters. AAOS Policy on Commercial Support for Enduring Continuing Medical Education Programs: Multimedia is attached as Attachment 14.

It would be very challenging financially for AAOS to educate orthopaedic surgeons in the use of new devices and techniques without commercial assistance. Currently, AAOS Fellows pay an average registration of $1625 for one surgical skills course, which includes medical equipment loaned by commercial supporters. Even at this fee, AAOS subsidizes the cost of producing skills courses in most years. While physicians' registrations fees cover most of the costs of administering these courses, the costs associated with purchasing sufficient quantities of medical devices as well as employing staff trained in the set-up of these devices – for every course

AAOS provides -- would make the courses cost prohibitive for AAOS to develop and for most physicians to attend.

Many commercial supporters provide training on their own devices at no cost to the physician. The benefit of AAOS-provided skills courses, however, is that AAOS maintains objectivity in the courses. AAOS policy provides that, if a commercial supporter provides equipment for a skills course, every attempt will be made to provide participants with access to similar equipment from other commercial supporters. In most courses conducted in the Orthopaedic Learning Center in AAOS building, equipment from a minimum of four companies is used in each course, and the overall goal of each course is to teach surgical principles rather than to train on specific pieces of equipment or equipment systems.

The medical devices loaned by manufacturers for skills courses have been and continue to be critical in the CME arena. The equipment is loaned only on a temporary basis -- for the length of one specific course -- after which it is returned to the manufacturer. Frequently, one piece of equipment can be reused by the company in multiple CME courses by multiple CME providers as a particular procedure is demonstrated for surgeon-participants. Because there is no fair market value for rental of surgical devices and tools, there are difficulties when one attempts to value the donation of equipment for AAOS skills courses. For this reason, the financial information provided in Attachment 2 does not provide a value for in-kind donations of medical devices/equipment received on loan for CME courses.

- Commercial Support of AAOS Annual Meeting

The 2009 AAOS Annual Meeting saw record attendance, with more than 33,000 registered attendees, including more than 15,400 physicians. AAOS manages all meeting logistics, including hotel accommodations, audio-video specifications, podium and poster presentations, instructional courses, scientific exhibits, scientific programming, food and beverage requirements, meeting programs and directories, physician registration, and exhibitor registration and space allocation.

Many commercial supporters attend AAOS Annual Meetings as technical exhibitors, each agreeing to abide by AAOS's stringent rules for exhibits. AAOS retains complete responsibility, control, and decision-making authority over every aspect of the technical exhibition process. AAOS Exhibitor's Prospectus is attached as Attachment 16.

- Other Educational Materials

- Enduring Educational Materials

In enduring educational materials, such as books, videos, CD-ROMs, DVDs, and internet-based courses, AAOS follows the ACCME guidelines by requiring authors and editors to disclose conflicts of interest and editorial boards in order to ensure the fair and balanced presentations of the topics covered. Any commercial support is acknowledged in print at the beginning of the print or electronic material.

Journal of American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons

Commercial advertisers in the Journal of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons (JAAOS) have no control over the content of the publication. Additionally, AAOS does not permit commercial advertisers to place restrictions or provide guidance on the selection of the authors or editors. The advertising and editorial staffs work separately, with each department being unaware of the content of the other until shortly before the material is published. Finally, every edition of JAAOS contains the following disclaimer, “A reference to a commercial product in an article or in any advertisement does not, either expressly or by implication, indicate that the Academy endorses the product, its manufacturer or distributor. The information contained in the Journal of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons is provided for educational purposes only.”

Other AAOS Activities

- Research

AAOS requires objectivity and disclosure at all levels of AAOS-supported research, including research undertaken by AAOS, as well as research undertaken by others that AAOS supports, such as all investigators involved in the research. AAOS's Council on Research, Quality Assessment and Technology (CORQAT) maintains a set of criteria by which external requests can be objectively evaluated by the Council or an ad hoc project team convened at the request of the CORQAT Chair. While AAOS supports and encourages research, it does not generally endorse individual research proposals to external funding agencies.

Each AAOS Clinical Practice Guideline provides the following disclaimer:

This guideline and evidence report were exclusively funded by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons who received no funding from outside commercial sources to support the development of this document. All panel members gave full disclosure of conflicts of interest prior to participating in the development of this guideline. This guideline and evidence report received no financial support from industry sponsors.

All panel members disclose the company or other organization with which there might be a conflict. AAOS has developed several Clinical Practice Guidelines, including the Guideline on the Treatment of Osteoarthritis (OA) of the Knee; the Guideline on the Prevention of Pulmonary Embolism; and two separate guidelines on Carpal Tunnel Syndrome, Guideline on the Diagnosis of Carpal Tunnel Syndrome and Guideline on the Diagnosis of Treatment of Carpal Tunnel Syndrome. The most recent guideline, Guideline on the Treatment of Pediatric Diaphyseal Femur Fractures, is attached at Attachment 18.

- Non-Clinical Publications

In non-clinical publications, such as AAOS Now, commercial advertisers have no control over the content of these publications, but may request specific ad placement within the publication. As with JAAOS, the advertising and editorial departments of AAOS Now are independent of one another, neither having any control over the content of the other. Each edition of AAOS Now contains the following disclaimer, "A reference to a commercial product in an article or in any advertisement does not, either expressly or by implication, indicate that AAOS endorses the product, its manufacturer or distributor. The information contained in AAOS Now is provided for educational purposes only."

AAOS's other non-clinical publication, Headline News Now, is a thrice-weekly e-newsletter for AAOS Fellows and Members. It does not contain any commercial advertising.

- Public Education Programs

Part of the mission of AAOS is to educate the public about orthopaedic medicine and ways to promote musculoskeletal health. AAOS partners with commercial supporters that have similar goals, including educating the public, government agencies and professional organizations about the impact and value of orthopaedic surgeons in the care of patients with musculoskeletal conditions. In many instances, financial support from these commercial supporters enables AAOS to engage in public education programs and initiatives that could not otherwise be pursued.

For example, for ten years, AAOS and commercial supporters have built safe accessible playgrounds in the locations of its last ten Annual Meetings. A gift to the host community, the cost of the playground – more than $200,000 – is largely donated by commercial supporters; however, orthopaedic surgeons, parents, children, community organizers and representatives from commercial supporters, come together to build the playground for a one-of-a-kind experience. The Playground Build materials are attached as Attachment 19.

On AAOS website, www.saveyourknees.org, visitors can learn how to keep knees healthy, perform strengthening exercises, avoid common knee problems and prevent knee injuries, and learn about possible treatments, including both nonsurgical and surgical options. This website is supported by commercial funding, and provides a valuable public education function that is used not only by the public at large, but also by orthopaedic surgeons as a tool to educate their patients. The Save Your Knees materials are attached as Attachment 20.

As another example, in 2008, AAOS celebrated its 75th anniversary with a number of public education events, including an extensive website, www.aaos75th.org, a book, Getting It Straight, A History of American Orthopaedics, by Henry H. Sherk, M.D., and an art exhibition, "eMotion Pictures: An Exhibition of Orthopaedics in Art." This year-long celebration highlighted not only the history of and advances in orthopaedics, but the creativity of orthopaedic surgeons in bringing the best clinical outcomes to their patients. Thanks in part to commercial support, the event was successful in promoting the role orthopaedic surgeons have played and will continue to play in health care. The 75th Anniversary materials are attached as Attachment 21.

Orthopaedic Research and Education Foundation (OREF)

Through a close working relationship with AAOS, the Orthopaedic Research and Education Foundation (OREF) represents AAOS's interests in acquiring grants supporting many medical education programs. Although OREF is an independent 501(c)(3) organization, payments of grants are sometimes made to OREF on behalf of AAOS. In turn, OREF retains a portion of each educational grant for use by OREF to advance educational and research activities in orthopaedics. The balance of the grant is transferred to AAOS for program support.

AAOS and OREF have worked together with commercial supporters to fund important education and research programs for the benefit of orthopaedic patients. Developing and implementing these programs is costly, and AAOS and OREF rely on commercial supporters for help in meeting the goals of these programs.

A copy of the February 2009 Partnership Opportunities booklet is attached as Attachment 22. The current list of proposals is available online through www.oref.org.

Guidelines for Commercial Support of American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons Programs

Introduction

As an organization committed to education of physicians, related health professionals and the public, the Academy seeks financial support for selected programs and projects. These include scientific meetings and continuing medical education (CME) courses, publications and other self-directed educational material, musculoskeletal research, public education and public service programs. The Academy's overriding goal for its medical education programs is to assist orthopaedic surgeons and other health care providers to maintain and improve their knowledge and skill levels so that patients receive optimum care. Its goals for the public are to provide accurate and useful information and to foster public service activities. Financial support from numerous commercial entities is often a key element in the Academy's ability to accomplish these goals. We therefore seek to partner with companies that have similar goals.

Governing the relationship between the Academy and commercial entities are a few simple principles:

Objectivity

To maintain the highest standards of objectivity, the Academy follows these principles:

CME courses and enduring materials: the Academy complies with the Standards for Commercial Support promulgated by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education. Among these standards is the identification and disclosure of any apparent or real conflicts of interest held by program faculty or authors. Commercial support for such programs and products is formalized in a standard CME Letter of Agreement and acknowledged in print. The Academy recognizes the importance and educational benefits of industry participation in many different types of courses, especially surgical skills, in which device and equipment companies provide both financial support and essential equipment for use by course participants. In print and publications, the Academy requires authors and editors to disclose potential conflicts of interest and editorial boards are charged to provide fair and balanced presentations of the topics covered.

Research: Research undertaken by the Academy, and research undertaken by others that the Academy supports, must meet the generally accepted standards for objectivity and disclosure by all investigators involved in the research. The Academy's Council on Research and Scientific Affairs maintains a set of criteria by which external requests can be objectively evaluated by the Council or an ad hoc project team convened at the request of the Research and Scientific Affairs Council Chair. While AAOS supports and encourages research, it does not generally endorse individual research proposals to external funding agencies.

Public education programs: The Academy works with companies on programs that further the Academy's mission to foster and promote the positive image of orthopaedic surgeons as ethical, caring and competent physicians and surgeons through education of the public, government agencies and professional organizations about the scope, impact and value of orthopaedists in the care of patients with musculoskeletal conditions. In many instances, financial support from partnering companies enables the Academy to engage in public education programs and initiatives that could not otherwise be pursued.

- As part of these cooperative programs, the Academy allows corporate partners to publicize their support of, and participation in, these programs. The Academy accepts such funds only if doing so will not create a conflict of interest or appearance of improper influence over Academy policies, programs and/or its members.
- The Academy's participation in cooperative public education programs with corporate partners is not intended to convey approval, endorsement, certification, acceptance or referral of any particular company, product or service manufactured or distributed by the corporate partner.

- All program-related materials, spokespersons, use of Academy and/or corporate logos, and acknowledgments of financial support by corporate partners are subject to review, approval and editorial control of the Academy.
- All references to product brands, logos or graphic representations of such products are subject to review and approval by the Academy.

Transparency

The Academy discloses all forms of financial and logistical support from commercial entities, as a matter of record and to recognize the companies that support the Academy.

Control of Content

The Academy retains complete responsibility, control, and decision-making authority for all of its programs. In education, the identification of post-graduate orthopaedic educational needs, educational objectives, scientific content, faculty selection, planning, and format of its educational programs and services are determined by its relevant councils and committees as charged by the Academy's Board of Directors. Similarly, in research, public education and academic affairs, the Academy's committees and councils determine program objectives independently of financial support. Although the Academy will accept grants in support of a particular project, product or event, the Academy will not accept grants on the condition of inclusion or exclusion of specific medical/scientific or product content.

Direct support to faculty, authors and participants

Organizations providing educational grants or purchasing advertising may not directly support faculty, authors, or others by preparing scientific content, audiovisual aids, or other materials for those individuals to be used in Academy educational programs and services. Similarly, no direct support may be given to orthopaedic surgeons or others participating in Academy research, public education or communications programs.

Recognition of companies

Recognition of all companies making grants to the Academy will be acknowledged as specified in grant requests and proposals. Every effort will be made to work with the corporate partner to provide mutually acceptable recognition and acknowledgment of corporate partner's participation. The cumulative total of a company's educational grants to the Academy will qualify it for various levels of recognition at the Academy's Annual Meeting and in relevant publications. Current levels of recognition are:

Diamond level	$200,000 and up	Company's CEO/President will receive a plaque from the Academy President, at the podium, and a photo will be taken. Company logo will be on screen during this time.
Platinum level	$100,000-$199,999	Company's contribution will be acknowledged from the podium and logo displayed individually on-screen
Gold level	$50,000-$99,999	Company's name will be scrolled on the screen with other companies at the gold level
Silver level	$10,000-$49,999	Company's name will be scrolled on the screen with other companies at the silver level
Bronze	$1,000-$9,999	Company's name will be scrolled on the screen with other companies at the bronze level

Where applicable, granting companies are also recognized by OREF in its recognition program.

OREF as Academy Representative

Through a close working relationship with the Academy, the Orthopaedic Research and Education Foundation represents the Academy's interests in grants supporting most medical education programs. Payments of grants are made to OREF on behalf of the Academy. In turn, OREF retains a portion of each educational grant for use by OREF to advance educational and research activities in orthopaedics.

Certain programs in public education and physician education are not represented by the OREF and grants are made directly to AAOS.

Published proposals

The Academy publishes all requests for funding by commercial entities periodically. Its Corporate Relations Advisory Group [CRAG] reviews and approves proposals before they are exposed to industry, to assure that the programs are needed, have a high priority, and are clearly delineated. The collected proposals are published as a booklet at least three times per year and are available from the Department of Education Programs at 847-384-4120.

In addition, proposals for programs in public education are published by the Department of Public Education and Media Relations and are available through that department at 847-384-4030.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST AND CONFIDENTIALITY POLICY FOR AAOS LEADERS

The Board of Directors of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and the American Association of Orthopaedic Surgeons (collectively “AAOS”) has long maintained and enforced a policy on Disclosure and Covenant to Disclose.

Under this policy, each Fellow or member has the obligation to disclose all potentially conflicting interests he or she identifies during service in an AAOS leadership position or as a member of an AAOS council, cabinet, committee, project team, or other group. Fellows or members must disclose those activities or relationships that are pertinent to the subject matter of the AAOS activity in which they are involved.

In the increasingly complex health care and commercial world, certain circumstances have arisen in which concern has been expressed about the appropriateness of an AAOS leader’s participation in certain AAOS discussions or decisions, even after he or she has made a complete disclosure of all potential conflicts of interest. Occasionally, a perceived conflict of interest has required an AAOS leader to excuse himself or herself during the discussion of sensitive or proprietary information or from a vote on a matter in which he or she may have a significant personal or professional stake.

To address this situation, the AAOS Board of Directors hereby adopts this clarification and expansion of the Policy on Disclosure as it pertains to certain AAOS leaders (as defined below).

Policy

1. No AAOS Fellow or member or member of the AAOS Senior Management Team (SMT), while serving the AAOS in a leadership capacity as a member of or staff to the Board of Directors or as a council/cabinet or committee chair or as staff to a council/cabinet or committee (“AAOS leader”), shall take advantage of his or her leadership role by using information acquired in such role for personal gain or gain for other individuals or organizations with whom the leader is affiliated. This creates a situation that is or might be perceived as a conflict of interest. Any activities on the part of an AAOS leader which do not serve the best interests of the AAOS or which result in undisclosed benefits to the AAOS leader or other individuals or organizations with which the leader is closely affiliated are inconsistent with the AAOS leader’s duties and responsibilities to the AAOS.
2. In any actions taken on behalf of the AAOS, the AAOS leader shall scrupulously attempt to avoid any undisclosed potential conflict between his or her own respective personal or corporate interests and the interests of the AAOS.
3. The AAOS leader shall agree to disclose fully the nature of his or her relationships with commercial entities relating to orthopaedics, including, but not limited to, payments for royalties, intellectual property, consulting arrangements, or honoraria; support received for research or institutional purposes; ownership of stock or stock options; service on the Board of Directors of any health care organization; service on the governing board or editorial board of any medical and/or orthopaedic publication; and/or (2) any significant interest the leader or an immediate family member has with individuals or in organizations with which AAOS is currently dealing or is considering doing business with; and/or (3) whatever other information is relevant to the matter under consideration.

4. If the AAOS leader or an immediate family member may stand to derive a personal gain or benefit from a transaction with the AAOS or has any direct or indirect interest in or a relationship with any individual or organization which may be seen as competing with the interests of the AAOS, such leader shall immediately notify the leadership group in which he or she is participating of the potentially conflicting interest or relationship and then shall excuse himself or herself from the meeting(s) while the matter is under consideration. Furthermore, he or she shall not attempt to participate in or influence the discussion or the vote in any manner unless specifically requested to do so by the AAOS leadership group. The minutes shall reflect that the AAOS leader did not participate in discussions about or in a vote on the matter.
5. If an AAOS leader expresses concern about his or her own (or their immediate family member's) potential conflicts of interests or regarding the potential conflicts of other AAOS leaders (or their immediate family members), they are encouraged to contact the AAOS General Counsel in confidence to discuss such potential conflict. The General Counsel may advise the individual in private or may be asked to render an opinion regarding the potential conflict before or during duly called meetings of the leadership group.

A copy of this Policy shall be given to all prospective candidates for positions on the Board of Directors or as chairs of AAOS councils/cabinet(s), or committees. It shall also be given to all members of the SMT. It shall be included in the Board orientation material and in the Board Protocol book.

AAOS BOARD OF DIRECTORS MANDATORY ENHANCED DISCLOSURE POLICY

Philosophy

In order to promote transparency and confidence in the educational programs and in the decisions of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and the American Association of Orthopaedic Surgeons (hereinafter collectively referred to as “AAOS”), the AAOS Board of Directors has adopted a mandatory disclosure policy applicable to all participants in the AAOS governance structure and for continuing medical education contributors. Because of the special re-sponsibilities of the AAOS Board of Directors, the AAOS Board of Directors has also adopted additional enhanced disclosure requirements for members of the Board of Directors, Council and Cabinet Chairs, and certain AAOS staff who participate in AAOS Board of Director meetings.

The actions and expressions of members of the AAOS Board of Directors must be transparent, as free of outside influence as possible and any relevant potentially conflicting interests or commercial relationships must be disclosed.

Obligation to Disclose

Each member of the AAOS Board of Directors, Council and Cabinet Chairs, Chief Financial Officer, Chief Education Officer, Medical Director, General Counsel and the Department Director, Office of Government Relations (“Applicable Individuals”) has the obligation to disclose all potentially conflicting interests. These interests shall include relationships between the applicable individual, his or her immediate family and his or her orthopaedic department or practice with an orthopaedic company during the past three years. The nature and actual amount of the relationships should be disclosed. Applicable individuals should use their “best efforts” to accurately provide this information.

Applicable individuals have an obligation to review and update their personal information in the AAOS disclosure database at least semi-annually (April and October). In addition, applicable individuals should note any changes to the AAOS disclosure database as soon as possible after they occur.

AAOS Disclosure System

A summary of the applicable individual’s disclosures and relationships with industry, with the actual detailed financial amount excluded, will be included in all Board meeting agenda books. This will be prepared by the Executive Assistant to the AAOS Board of Directors. In addition, this information will be available to other Fellows and Members in a password-protected section of the AAOS website.

The enhanced disclosure information, including the actual financial amounts, shall be available for review only by the President, First Vice President and Second Vice President and a limited number of AAOS staff. It will not be shared with others, including other members of the Board of Directors even in executive session.

In addition, participants in Board discussions have an obligation to indicate any potential conflicts they may have during discussions affecting their personal interests during the meeting. At each meeting of the AAOS Board of Directors the President will remind the group that full disclosure must be made of any potential conflict of interest when a matter involving that interest is discussed.

The President has the prerogative of requesting an individual to provide further information or an explanation if he or she identifies a potential conflict of interest regarding that individual. Based on the information provided in the AAOS disclosure database and/or upon a further review, the President may determine that the individual shall:

- Disclose the conflict and continue to participate fully in the Board's deliberations
- Disclose the conflict, but abstain from discussing and voting on the matter; or
- Disclose the conflict and leave the Board room until the matter has been fully discussed and acted upon.

If one of the latter two actions is taken, it should be reflected in the minutes of the AAOS Board meeting.

This policy shall be effective following the 2009 Annual Meeting.

Adopted: December 2008
