Ralph W. Hale, MD
Executive Vice President
The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists
409 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20024

Dear Dr. Hale:

In December 2009, I asked for an accounting of industry funding that The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG) receives from pharmaceutical and medical device companies as well as foundations established by these companies or the insurance industry. I appreciate your response, which I have attached to this letter. I write today to follow up on any efforts by your organization to improve transparency and accountability in its relationships with the pharmaceutical and device industries.

As I stated in my previous letter, I started my inquiry, in part, as a result of accounts documenting the lack of transparency in financial relationships between the pharmaceutical industry and nonprofit health and medical organizations. Specifically, I cited the April 2008 article in The Wall Street Journal, which reported that industry representatives, including ten major drug companies, had formed a coalition to promote looser restrictions on off-label marketing.¹ The coalition had asked the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) to speak in favor of this issue.

In response to my concerns in my April 2009 letter to NAMI, NAMI began to voluntarily disclose to the public any amount of funding exceeding $5,000 that it received from pharmaceutical companies and foundations on its website. Further, NAMI began to provide a brief description of the purpose of the funding on its website. I commend NAMI for its leadership and had hoped that when I reached out to your organization and 32 others, your organization would follow NAMI's example and begin posting similar funding information on ACOG's website.

As of the date of this letter, it appears that no additional information regarding your organization's industry funding has been posted on the ACOG's website. If ACOG is currently taking steps to enhance the transparency of its financial relationships with the pharmaceutical and device industries, I would appreciate information regarding those steps. If not, please explain why your organization does not support the disclosure of funding it receives from pharmaceutical and device companies.

The Medicare Payment Advisory Commission (MedPAC) recommended in a report to Congress in March 2009 that Congress require that pharmaceutical and device companies report their financial relationships with physician groups, patient organizations, and others. More specifically MedPAC said the following:

Given the potential benefits of public reporting, we recommend that the Congress mandate the reporting of comprehensive information on industry relationships with physicians and other health care entities and that the Secretary post this information on a public searchable website.²

MedPAC then went on to say in Recommendation 5-1 that:

The Congress should require all manufacturers and distributors of drugs, biologicals, medical devices, and medical supplies (and their subsidiaries) to report to the Secretary their financial relationship with: . . . physician groups and other prescribers . . . patient organizations; and professional organizations.³

I look forward to working with you and other health and medical organizations to further increase sunshine on financial relationships.

Thank you for your cooperation and attention in this matter. I would appreciate a response by May 25, 2011. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Brian Downey for the Committee on the Judiciary at (202) 224-5225.

Sincerely,

Charles E. Grassley

The Honorable Charles E. Grassley
Ranking Member Committee on Finance
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510-6200

Dear Senator Grassley,

I am writing in response to your letter dated December 7, 2009, in which you requested information regarding industry funding received by the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists as well as information regarding the College's policies on acceptance of industry funding and conflict of interest reporting during the years 2006 through 2009.

The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists is a private, non-profit, national membership organization dedicated to the advancement of health care for women through continuing medical education, practice, and research. The College accepts industry funding for use in furtherance of its mission; however, funding from commercial sources represents only a small fraction of the College's total revenues.

The College holds itself and its leadership to the highest standards of independence and ethical conduct. As discussed in our responses below, the policies and reporting mechanisms regarding conflicts of interest have evolved during the relevant period, but they have consistently ensured that the College's activities are free from improper influence.

Information Regarding Industry Funding

As you requested in your letter, we have enclosed detailed information regarding transfers of value received by the College during the years 2006 through 2009 from pharmaceutical companies, medical device companies, foundations established by these companies, and the health insurance industry. The College receives two forms of industry funding: (1) payments for goods and services, such as bulk purchases of publications, rentals of exhibit booth space, or purchases of advertising; and (2) grants, sponsorships, and other support of College projects or programs.

Attachments 1(A)-(D) contain itemized information for the first type of funding, payments for goods and services, during the relevant years. Attachments 2(A)-(D) contain itemized information regarding grants, sponsorships, and all other transfers of value from industry.¹ Attachments 2(A)-(D) include loans of medical equipment for use in hands-on training courses held at the College's Annual Clinical Meeting. While we are unable to assign a monetary value to the brief use of this equipment, we believe it would not contribute significantly to the total amounts shown in the attachments.

During the years 2006 to 2009, the total amount of industry funding received by the College represented just 8.64% of the College's total revenue (based on the total revenue reflected on the College's audited financial statements for 2006-2008 and an estimate of the 2009 total revenue). Of this 8.64%, just 2.68% represented grants, sponsorships, and other support.

1) Please describe the policies for accepting industry funding and whether or not ACOG allows companies to place restrictions or provide guidance on how funding will be spent.

Companies that purchases goods or services from the College are, naturally, permitted to restrict the use of their funds to a particular purpose, such as the rental of a certain size exhibit booth or the purchase of a certain number of copies of a particular publication. Companies making such purchases are not permitted to place restrictions or provide guidance regarding any programmatic content related to their purchase (e.g., a company renting an exhibit booth at a meeting has no control over the information presented at the meeting, and a company making a bulk purchase has no influence over the content of the publication).

The College solicits donations, grants, sponsorship, and other financial support from industry sources for programs and projects in furtherance of the mission of the College. In most instances, the College seeks funding for specific purposes, such as support for the College's Annual Clinical Meeting, funding to distribute educational publications to College members, or funding for research awards to members of the College. In these cases, the support is given with the understanding that it will be used for a particular project or program; however, the entity giving the funds has no control over the substance of the project or program.

¹ Because the College does not organize its financial records based on the source of the income, we gathered information from the records of our Meetings, Accounting, Marketing, Development, and Corporate Relations departments. We believe the information contained in Attachments 1(A)-(D) and 2(A)-(D) is as accurate as possible.

The College follows the guidelines for relationships with industry provided in the College's Committee on Ethics, Committee Opinion # 401, Relationships with Industry (March 2008) (update of "Relationships with Industry" in Ethics in Obstetrics and Gynecology, Second Edition, 2004) (enclosed as Attachment 3) and in the College's Code of Professional Ethics (enclosed as Attachment 4). In addition, the College's interactions with industry are guided by the United States Food and Drug Administration, Guidance for Industry, Industry-Supported Scientific and Educational Activities, November 1997, and the relevant policies and opinions of the American Medical Association.

Finally, as a provider of continuing medical education (CME) credits accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the College follows the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support and related ACCME policies and definitions. The ACCME standards ensure the independence of CME activity by, among other things, prohibiting commercial interests from controlling the selection of teachers, authors, or participants, or other educational matters, including content.

2) If ACOG allows companies to place restrictions on industry funding, then please explain all restrictions and/or guidance for each transfer of value from industry. For every transfer of value with a restriction, please provide the following information: year of transfer, name of company, and restriction placed on funding.

Funding given for a particular purpose is identified in Attachments 1(A)-(D) and 2(A)-(D).

3) Please explain what policies, if any that ACOG plans to adopt to ensure transparency of funding in order to provide a greater public trust in the independence of your organization.

Beginning in May 2010, all chairs of College committees will become subject to the additional conflict of interest requirements that currently apply to members of the Executive Board (see response to Question 4, below). The policy for committee chairs is enclosed as Attachment 5. The College continues to consider the issues of conflict of interest and transparency and will adopt additional policies as deemed necessary by the Executive Board.

4) Please explain your policies on disclosure of outside income by your top executives and board members.

The College's policies for disclosure of outside income, and other potential conflicts of interest, by its top executives and board members have evolved during the time period of the request. At the beginning of the relevant period, members of the College Executive Board were subject to the same Conflict of Interest Disclosure Policy as other College volunteers and employees who were exempt from the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act ("exempt employees"). Beginning in 2009, members of the Executive Board became subject to additional, more stringent, restrictions.

In 2006, 2007, and 2008, members of the Executive Board, district and section officers, members of committees and task forces, Junior Fellow College Advisory Council members, authors of College publications, postgraduate course faculty, consultants, and exempt staff were required to comply with the Conflict of Interest Disclosure Policy enclosed as Attachment 6. The policy defined conflict of interest as follows:

Conflicts of interest occur when an individual, family member (defined as the individual's spouse, siblings, spouses of siblings, ancestors, children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, and spouses of children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren) or an associate with whom the individual has a business relationship ("business associate") has a material interest in a company, product or service that is affected by a College activity in which that individual participates. Conflicts of interest may be real, in that the economic or other interest influences the individual's actions, or may be only perceived, in which case others may believe that the interest precludes unbiased behavior.

The policy also set forth reporting requirements for persons subject to the policy and established procedures for recusal and resolution of questions regarding potential conflicts of interest. The reporting requirements included the following:

Any individual subject to this policy shall file a statement annually or upon request with the College disclosing any material interest in a company, service, product or other concern that might affect or be affected by that individual's College activities. Examples of such interests are: financial interests such as stock ownership (not including "mutual funds" over which the individual has no control); substantial gifts; employment; consultancy arrangements; faculty appointments; arrangements with medical, scientific, or related publishers to write articles or to provide editorial services; pharmaceutical investigation or research support; or honoraria.

The disclosure shall include interests of the individual and known interests of his or her family and business associates. In most cases, the interest will be financial, but it may be personal or organizational.

As stated in the policy quoted above, individuals subject to the policy must disclose any potential conflicts of interest on at least an annual basis. Members of the Executive Board make these disclosures on a form called the Volunteer Agreement, which must be signed and submitted to the College. Exempt staff sign and submit a different document, called the Disclosure Form for Exempt Staff. Examples of the Volunteer Agreement and the Disclosure Form for Exempt Staff are included in Attachment 6.

Beginning in May 2009, additional, even more stringent, requirements went into effect for members of the Executive Board. The new requirements for Executive Board members are enclosed as Attachment 7 and provide:

While serving on the College Executive Board, an Executive Board member and the member's spouse or domestic partner shall not:

- Have a financial interest in excess of $5,000, except in a blind trust, exchange traded funds or through mutual fund investments, in an individual pharmaceutical company or an individual manufacturer of medical instruments, devices or equipment
- Receive any consulting fees, royalties, honoraria, in-kind services, or payments of any kind for their personal use from a pharmaceutical company or a manufacturer of medical instruments, devices or equipment, except for payments in relation to clinical investigations or studies conducted in accordance with federal requirements
- Accept anything of value in excess of $25 for their personal use from a pharmaceutical company or a manufacturer of medical instruments, devices or equipment, except for items in relation to clinical investigations or studies conducted in accordance with federal requirements
- Be on a speakers bureau of a pharmaceutical company or a manufacturer of medical instruments, devices or equipment
- Have a consulting or advisory arrangement with a pharmaceutical company or a manufacturer of medical instruments, devices or equipment, except in relation to clinical investigations or studies conducted in accordance with federal requirements
- Serve on a corporate board of a pharmaceutical company or a manufacturer of medical instruments, devices or equipment

In October 2009, the College adopted a revised Conflict of Interest Disclosure Policy for members of the Executive Board, district and section officers, members of committees and task forces, Junior Fellow College Advisory Council members, authors of College publications, postgraduate course faculty, consultants, and exempt staff. The new policy allows that the "Executive Board may adopt additional conflict of interest policies for members serving in certain positions," such as the additional policy that applies to Executive Board members. As another difference from the previous policy, the new policy also requires disclosure of any financial interest in excess of $100 in any company, organization, service, product or other concern that might affect or be affected by College activities. The 2009 Conflict of Interest Disclosure Policy is enclosed as Attachment 8.

5) Please provide the disclosures of outside income filed with your organizations by your top executives and board members.

The College maintains copies of Volunteer Agreements and Disclosure Forms for Exempt Staff for only the current and immediately preceding year. The 2008 Volunteer Agreements for members of the College Executive Board and the 2008 Disclosure Forms for Exempt Staff for the College's top executives are enclosed as Attachment 9. The 2009 documents are enclosed as Attachment 10.

Conclusion

We hope that this response will be useful to you in the Committee's work.
